MICHEL LOSES $25,000 PRIZE IN FRIGID SWIM

Frenchman, Sole Survivor of Toronto Marathon, Forced to Quit.

LAST WINNER GIVES UP WHEN 2 MILES IN LEAD

150,000 See Chilling Waters of Lake Ontario Conquer All of 199 Entrants.

Toronto, Sept. 5 (A.P.) .- The frigid waters of Lake Ontario swept clean a field of 199 distance swimming stars here tonight when Georges Michel, of France, sole survivor in the 15-mile marathon for prizes aggregating $35,-000, was hauled from the course by his handlers after having covered twelve and one-quarter miles in 11 hours and 12 minutes. This action rendered Michel ineligible to receive the $25,000 first prize, which would have been his had he merely completed the course, Michel's end came only a little dis tance beyond the point where Ernest Vierkoetter, German conqueror of the English Channel and winner of the Toronto swim last year, had been taken from the water semiconscious. The German was ahead of Michel by almost two miles at the time, but the Parisian automatically became the leader and a few moments later was the sole re maining competitor.

Despite the presence of only one athlete in the water, some 150,000 persons crowded through the gates of the Canadian Exposition to watch one man under flood lights in his unequal battle against the cold lake. DISMISSALS URGED TO CHECK DRINKING Dougherty Asks Record in Case and Hints He Favors Reorganization Plan.

A shake-up in the Police Trial Board eems certain to result from a conference held yesterday by Proctor L. Dougherty, president of the Board of District Comissioners, and Mai. Edwin B. Hesse, superintendent of police, on the subject of the recent increase in the number of trial board cases against policemen, revealed last week by The

In his report submitted to Dougherty Tuesday, Maj. Hesse fired a heavy broadside at the trial board charging it with being too lenient. For more, than an hour the superintendent of police and the Commission his phase of the question and particularly the case of William T. Griffin patrol wagon driver of the Third Precinct, recently fined $100 by the trial board for a fourth offense of drinking

Commissioner Dougherty ordered the testimony in the case written up with view to discovering whether Griffin should not have been dismissed from the service. If he arrives at that conclusion he may recommend that the Commissioners remand the case for a new trial and they may even change the personnel of the board. Personnel Shift Probable.

In any event it now seems likely that, in addition to changing the structure of the trial board a complete will be made. Dougherty declared himself in favor of rotation of trial board members so that the same officers will not serve continuously for long periods as they have done in the past. That action will be prompt was indi-cated when Dougherty also said that the question of reorganizing the trial board may be decided before the return from his vacation of Commissioner Sidney F. Griffin Case Made Issue.

The Griffin case was cited by Maj. Hesse, as, although perhaps an extreme case, illustrating what he meant by accusing the trial board of undue leni-

Griffin is in the seventh year of his service as a policeman. He was appointed to the force January 15, 1921. June 18 of that year he was suspended for intoxication and conduct unbecoming an officer. He was tried by the trial board and found not guilty.

January 2, 1922, he was again suspended for the same offense, and February 4 was found guilty and fined $25. December 16, 1922, he was found not guilty of conduct unbecoming an officer. August 17, 1926, he was suspended for intoxication but acquitted. September 24, 1925, he was tried for wilfully making an untruthful statement to a superior officer, but was found not guilty.

to a superior officer, but was found not guilty.

April 14, 1927, he was suspended again for intoxication, and nine days later was fined $50. August 18, the same year, he was suspended for drunk-enness and a week later suffered a third conviction and was fined $100.

In the meantime he had been injured on a motorcycle, and upon his recovery was assigned to drive the automobile patrol wagon of the Third precinct. August 17 he was suspended for being drunk when he reported for duty to drive the autopatrol. Last Friday he was found guilty of a fourth offense, but was merely fined $100 and restored to duty.

Senator Caraway said that he was surprised at the large number of policemen charged with intoxication—

39 were charged with that offense in the last 12 months—and also at the small number of policemen dismissed for this and other serious offenses The Arkansan, however, was confident that Maj. Hesse would correct present conditions.

Edward M. Taylor, suspended traffic officer, yesterday was surrendered to Justice William Hitz, of the District Supreme Court, by Mitton S. Kron-helm, who had furnished $1.500 bond for him when he was indicted last winter on charges of hijacking a truckload of liquor from two colored Children Greet Procession.

There was a vast crowd of worshiplers and the procession of the papal and delegate and his suite moved through a lane of children waving the papal and Australian flags in the cold, windy weather. The worshipers knelt in the courtyard, on the lawns and in adjacent streets and listened to the prayers and responses which were broadcast by amplifying devices. They bowed in unison during the service.

GOV. GREEN AGAIN MICHIGAN WINNER

Executive's Majority Over Welsh May Mount as High as 235,000 Votes.

CARRIES MOST COUNTIES

Detroit, Mich., Sept. 5 (A.P.).—Although he made virtually no campaign and faced a fire of criticism by his opponent, Gov. Fred W. Green, Republican, was renominated in yesterday's State-wide primary by a majority that will range between 225,000 and 235,000. On returns from 2,737 precincts out of 3,184 in the State, the governor polled 371,917, against 164,627 for George W Weish, former lleutenant governor. The governor carried virtually every county in the State, even Wayne (Detroit), where Weish claimed he would make his best showing. The campaign was entirely devoid of national issues. SMITH POWER STAND IS CALLED LIABILITY

Brookhart Says Governor Fails to Win Progressives With Private Operation.

G. O. P. GIVEN $560.039

By CARLISLE BARGERON.

Gov. Smith, instead of winning the Middle Western progressives' support with his waterpower issue, rubbed them the other way, according to Senator Smith W. Brookhart, of Iowa, who was among Herbert Hoover's callers yesterday. Importance would seem to attach to the senator's view, because it apparently explains the lack of expected warmth on the part of Senator Norris and his troupe of progressives for the governor's candidacy.

Iowa senator gave the impres sion that he does not exactly know just where Mr. Hoover stands on this Just where Mr. Hoover stands on this matter. He, of course, does not entertain the thought that Mr. Hoover embraces the progressives policy of Government ownership and Government operation, but in so far as Gov. Smith is concerned it would have been better, from the standpoint of progressive support, had he said nothing at all.

It seems that the governor took a definite stand for Government ownership or control, but he did not take a stand against private operation, rather indicating, in fact, that he favored this latter. In Senator Brookhart's opinion, that is worse thian private ownership and private operation. The governor would have the Government develop the waterpower projects and then turn them over to the interests, the senator says.

Progressives May Stay Mum.

Progressives May Stay Mum.

Progressives May Stay Mum.

It has been no secret that the last of progressive response was the cause for disappointment in the Democratic ranks. Senator Norris was expected to come out with a vigorous message of support, at least for the waterpower policy. But the progressive leader did nothing of the sort and it is Senator Brookhart's opinion, and the Iowa senator is an excellent, conscientious reporter, that both Senators Norris and La Follette will go along without saying anything either for Hoover or Smith. This silence will, of course, be helpful to the Smith cause, but there is a question if it is not more than offset in Nebraska by yesterday's acquisition of Mark W. Women Testify That 58 Illegal Receipts Were Issued From Pittsburgh Home. WRITTEN ALIKE, THEY SAY

(Associated Press.)

Counsel for William B. Wilson, who is contesting the election to the Senate of William S. Vare, of Pennsylvania, continued yesterday to advance the contention that tax receipts had been wrongfully obtained in that State. A. B. Hurshman, on behalf of Wilson, brought to the stand before the Senate investigating committee, Mrs. John I. Miller, chairman of the Pennsylvania League of Women Voters, and her sister, Mrs. R. Templeton Smith, chairman of the Allegheny County league of the same organization, to testify regarding the issuance of 58 tax receipts in the name of women in the Athila Daly Home at Pittsburgh, in 1927, a year after the senatorial contest. Their testimony was introduced in an effort to prove that these tax receipts had been unlawfully issued and that they disclosed conditions which could have prevailed during the senatorial contest. The receipts represent taxes impresed on occurations and take the test. The receipts represent taxes im-posed on occupations and take the place in Pennsylvania of poll taxes. The two witnesses testified that the 58 receipts were shown them by Samuel D. Foster, county treasurer at Pittsburgh, in September, 1927, upon their demand, and that he had informed them that under the practice prevailing unlimited numbers of such receipts could be obtained upon written orders from individuals. They asserted that he declined to produc the orders upon which the 52 receipts had been issued, outlier as his reason that they had not

Luxemburg to Discuss Arbitration Pact Plan

Negotiations with Luxemburg for arbitration and conciliation treaties similar to those recently concluded with other countries are shortly to be entered into by the United States Government, according to an announcement yesterday by the State Department. Texts of the draft treaties are being transmitted by the department to Hugh S. Gibson, American Ambassador at Brussels, for presentation to the government of Luxemburg.

At the same time it is learned that treaties of arbitration and conciliation will be signed in Washington shortly between the United States and Roumania.

Curtiss Field, N. Y., Sept. 5 (A.P.).—Seventeen-year-old Eleanor Smith was officially informed today that she had made a women's alittude world record flight of 11.663 feet on August 21, and thereupon confided that her next great ambition was to fly the ocean. Really fly it, not just go for a ride. But she admitted that at the moment there were two seemingly insurmountable obstacles, to wit:

Sanitary Engineer's Annual Report Says Disposal Works Should Be Built.

EFFECT OF RAINS CITED

Need for installation of adequat Need for installation of adequate ewage disposal works required to make the water of the Potomac River safe, was emphasized by the statement in the annual report of J. B. Gordon, District sanitary engineer, made public yesterday, that dilution of sewage fell below the mark of 200 cubic feet of water per minute per 1,000 of population on 21 days of the last feed war. The control minute per 1,000 of population on 21 days of the last fiscal year. The report

"The minimum dilution figure, that is the flow in cubic feet per minute per thousand of population, afforded by the Potomac River and based on a population of 552,000, fell to 136 on September 18 and 30 and October 1, 1927. The figure fell well below 200 from September 10 to 18 and from September 22 to October 3, a total of 21 days."

According to the report the sewerage system of the District as of June 30 was 937 miles in length, consisting of 173 miles of main sewers, 724 miles of pipe sewers and 40 miles of sewage disposal system. The total cost of the system to that date was $26,654,245.

special to The Washington Post.

New York, Sept. 5 .- A reconciliation between the Irving Berlins and Clarnce H. Mackay, multimillionaire presiente of the Postal Telegraph-Commercial Cables Co., is likely as a result of the death of Mackay's mother, Mrs. Marle Mackay, early today at the age of 85. Friends of the family believed the death of his mother would soften the heart of the capitalist and lead him to forgive his daughter, the former Miss Ellin Mackay, who shocked society when she married the popular song writer, and to recognize her husband and child. Mrs. Mackay ded at Harbor Hill, Roslyn, Long Island, the home of her son, At her bedside were her three grand-children, Mrs. Berlin, Mrs. Kenneth W. O'Brien and John W. Mackay. Estranged from her father since her runaway marriage to the rich composer, Mrs. Berlin's visit to Harbor Hill last night is believed to have been her first in two years. Her father sailed today from England on the Majestic. Funeral arrangements for his mother will await his arrival. At the services father and daughter will meet for the first time since he turned his back upon Ellin because of her marriage to the former singing waiter on New York's Bowery. ient of the Postal Telegraph-Commer-

The New Frigidaire is so designed that you can put the mechanism in the basement if you care to. Thus you can use the lower part of the cabinet for dry storage. The top of the cabinet is available for extra shelf space. It's as handy as another table in the kitchen. But even with the mechanism in the kitchen, you'll never know it's there. For it's so incredibly quiet that you don't hear it start . . . you don't hear it stop . . . you don't hear it run.

You'll wonder how such simple, quiet mechanism can be so powerful. Even the smallest model can freeze as much as 36 full size ice cubes between meals . . . no matter how high the kitchen temperature.

CLAIMING ALL.

Out of the abnormalities of this campaign shine two great and steady lights, throwing their effulgence upon the path of confused voters and reassuring them that the old landmarks still stand. These lights are Chairman Raskob, of the Democratic national committee, and Senator George Moses, Republican field marshal in the Eastern sector. They are the links that connect this campaign with the old familiar past Other managers and spokesmen are acting strangely, giving the campaign an atmosphere of unreality, like a campaign in a dream; but Johnny Raskob and George Moses stick to the good old rule of claiming everything and conceding nothing.

When Chairman Raskob claims most of the Northern States and all the South, the seasoned voter knows that the campaign is real and not imaginary; and when George Moses claims the cream of the solid South for Hoover and admits that only one or two insignificant States are "troublesome," it is a sign that the battalions and brigades are about to engage.

As the battle lines develop it stands to reason that the two champions will intensify and consolidate their claims. No doubt they are already astonished by their own moderation; but practice will make perfect. The tagends that are now contemptuously thrown to the enemy will be reclaimed later, when every inch of No Man's Land is fought over and when the taking of a 10-foot trench will be blazoned as the prelude to the collapse of empires.

Chairman Raskob returns from the West with the electrifying news that Vice Chairman Moses has failed to claim Arizona, Wisconsln, Montana, Maryland or Missouri. This failure is equivalent, of course, to a surrender of those States to Gov. Smith. While in the West, Mr. Raskob claimed 309 votes for Smith, but, en route East, he said, "he was assured that Gov. Smith would carry Illinois, Indiana and Ohio." This assurance caused him to recapitulate his claims, which now aggregate 400 or more. Possibly the reason why Vice Chairman Moses forgot to claim Arizona and the others was because he was busy liquidating the solid South. He saw Alabama falling into the Hoover line, with Arkansas proudly following, and Georgia, Virginia and North Carolina bringing up the rear. "Give Kentucky to us," says George. "No? Then we will take it."

What a glorious election it will be, if only a part of the claims of Raskob and Moses come true! Hoover will be the darling of the South, and Gov. Smith will run strongest in dry States. Rock-ribbed Republican strongholds will succumb to the fascinations of the lad from the aidewalks, and Southern States that never saw a Republican will perform the greatest flop that ever was on sea or land.

The battle must go on to the stern and bitter end. Into all calculations some errors will fall, and perhaps the official count may call for slight readjustments in the claims now made by Moses and Raskob. But it will never be said that they were slackers. They claim the best they could, and when in doubt they claim. If the voters do not verify the figures it is not the fault of the figures or the claimers.

SHIP TO SHORE FLIGHTS.

Long before the French Line steamer He de France arrived in New York, mail that it carried from France had been distributed throughout New England and New York State. At 5:45 o'clock Monday morning a plane was catapulted from the deck of the steamer while it was 300 miles off the coast of Halifax and 900 miles from New York. Swiftly the plane winged its way to Halifax, where it was refueled. At 3 o'clock in the afternoon it had arrived in Boston, where the mail was dsitributed and rerouted. At 10 o'clock part of the mail was in New York and part was in Albany awaiting a Western-bound mail plane. It is estimated that at least 24 hours was saved in the transportation of mail by this flight from ship to shore. There no longer can be any doubt that the airplane is destined to play an increasingly important role in expediting mail to and from ships. The flight of the plane from the Ile de France demonstrated that there is a considerable time saving in such flights.

Two difficulties only stand in the way of general adoption of an auxiliary plane service for transatlantic liners. Such service is costly, but perhaps the senders of messages of an urgent nature are willing to pay the in 363 B. C. that Aristobulus did this work cost. The fact that ship to shore flying is largely dependent upon perfect or near perfect flying weather, and hence can not be conducted with guaranteed regularity, presents

THE COMMUNITY CHEST.

Organization of a community chest for Washington has begun. Last spring there was formed an organization committee composed of about 100 representative citizens, which recently mailed to the citizens of Washington a statement regarding the functions of a community chest. More than 300 representative American cities, including Philadelphia, Cleveland, Detroit, Cincinnati, Buffalo: St. Louis and Milwaukee, utilize with great success this modern and efficient method of raising funds for charity.

The Washington community chest will be a corporation organized of individual members, the contributors and institutional members, the participating charities and philanthropies. Next January it will conduct a joint appeal for funds to meet the current expense needs of its member institutions as shown by carefully prepared budgets thoroughly analyzed by a budget committee of responsible citizens. It will engage in the year-round work of collecting and distributing funds that have been subscribed. It will devote its attention toward trying to improve the methods of its member organizations. It will carry on an educational publicity program and will study the community needs of Washington in order to meet them as adequately as possible.

The community chest promises to improve the situation in regard to charitable fund raising in these respects: It will relieve the public of repeated solicitation; it will supply the individual with information by which be can more intelligently plan his giving; by eliminating duplicated effort it will make the individual contribution go further; it will lessen the cost of solicitation, so that a greater portion of the fund contributed to charity will go into actual human service: it will increase the number of contributors. The community chest in other cities has made a remarkable record in each of these respects. It is said on good authority that the cost of solicitation under the present system of separate campaigns, appeal letters, balls, bazaars and paid solicitors stands in the neighborhood of 15 per cent. The community chest plan promises to cut this figure in half. In Cleveland the number of contributors to charity has been increased under the community chest from 10,000 to 460,000; in Detroit from 8,000 to 270,000; in Cincinnati from 8,000 to 81,000; in St. Louis from 8,000 to 150,000.

With the experience of other cities upon which to draw, with able leadership assured and with a city whose citizens are responsive to the calls of humanity the Washington community chest will be a success.

SPEEDBOATS.

Gar Wood, in establishing an official world record of better than 92 miles an hour with his speedboat, Miss America VII, has given foreign boat racing enthusiasts a mark to shoot at. Repeated efforts have been made. particularly by the English, to lift the speedboat crown. The boats they have sent against Gar Wood's creations have performed creditably in every instance. Not once, however, has speed approaching the 92-mile mark been reached. Gar Wood makes the claim that Miss America VII has even greater speed concealed in her sleek hull and powerful engines "I'll do better," he says, "than 100 miles an hour with the boat next spring in Florida."

Speedboats are not important agencies of transportation, for if speed is an important consideration it can be obtained better and with greater comfort in air or sea planes. directly, however, by contributing to the knowledge of engine and hull design and perform ance, they serve a useful purpose. Miss America VII will never be duplicated commercially but the radical innovations that made possible such tremendous speed may be adapted to commercial craft, from dories to ocean liners. The construction of Miss America VII is of itself an interesting story. Two days after another Gar Wood boat, Miss America VI, sank during a trial run several weeks ago, a new hull was laid out on paper. After materials were fabricated the hull was laid down and in less than a week Miss America VII was ready for the water.

CROSS-COUNTRY AIR RACES.

The transcontinental air races seem to be before despite the fact that the airplane is no longer a curiosity. The explanation may lie in the fact that the airplane is a spectacular and practical development of the seven league boots of the legends, in which dashing figures flit nonchalantly across vast spaces. It may lie merely in the fact that the average individual likes a race. The 37 planes that took off at Roosevelt Field yesterday morning, the first of the four groups racing to Mines Field, Los Angeles, were sped on their way by an enthusiastic crowd. At Harrisburg, McKees port and Columbus, the three stops on yesterday's schedule, similar crowds were on hand.

The planes entered in these races are representative of the best that American manu facturers have designed. From huge transports with three powerful engines, down to tiny Moths with motor displacement of less than 510 cubic inches, they testify to the fact that American airplane manufacturing is a thriving industry. As they speed their way across the country the American people will have an opportunity to see for themselves that the airplane is no longer a frail and imgractical contraption of cloth and piano wire. The cross-country races can not fail to contribute to the air knowledge of both the public and the fliers.

THE TOMB OF CYRUS.

Of the memorials of the mighty which have been uncovered from time to time by the new zest of archeologists for revival to knowledge of the cities, palaces and tombs of the potentates of the East, none has eclipsed in intrinsic historical value as well as in archeological estimation the discovery of the city which wa built by Cyrus the Great in Persia, and which centuries ago dropped out of knowledge. Its location and the discovery of the tomb of Cyrus are due not a little in the faithfulness of the man who was required by Alexander the

and left a description that has proved an accurate guide for archeologists. Thus has been uncovered from the debris of ages the tomb that will hereafter be preserved as one of the most remarkable relics of the past.

The Persian city which has been brought to light is Pasargadae, and the credit for its discovery belongs to a German scientist, Prof. Ernst Herzfeld. The tomb of Cyrus is described as a low quadrangular building of marble, surmounting a six-tier terrace, also of stone, rising from a base of 40 by 50 feet. The interior of the tomb is 10 feet long, 7 feet wide and 8 feet high. In old times pillars stood around the tomb, upon which was inscribed, both in Persian and Median, "I am Cyrus the King."

Here rested the body of the son of Cambyses, the conqueror of Croesus and Belshazzar, the liberator of the Jews who had wept by the rivers of Babylon,

GIFTS TO GOV. SMITH.

Anonymous admirers have been showering gifts upon Gov. Smith. "Beware of the Greeks bearing gifts' does not apply to these, for there is only sincerity in the proffers which come from all parts of the country. Some of them come from Greeks literally, too, notwithstanding claims set up in behalf of Mr. Hoover that the Greek votes are his. While the nature of the gifts shows the givers' hearts to be sound. ome of them hardly inspire confidence in the head, but perhaps they are as well chosen as any similar outpouring of gifts to be found in a bride's shower; or a country parson's pound party, or the offerings that run the sluiceway of the mails to White House incumbents.

Golf hose of approved emerald hue, cigars of untested brands, handkerchiefs of the kind that are found in Christmas gift boxes, shirts, ies, shoes and four-leaf clovers compete with horned toads, racing turtles-one with a record of 170 yards in 70 minutes-chickens. eggs, geese and roosters. Carefully typed and conveyed reams of poetry attest the interest of the Pegasians in a harmonious campaign. Good-luck mementoes come in cargo lots.

To cap all else, an artist admirer, a carpenter. laid down the tools of his craft and executed a sketch of Gov. Smith that was sent to the candidate with his assertion that he has been a drawer of pictures all his life. Gauged by the estimate of utility the heterogeneous as semblage of tokens from admirers might not count for much, but their values as an expression of interest in his campaign are doubtless fully appreciated by Gov. Smith.

WORKING THROUGH COLLEGE.

A very considerable number of the 1,000,-000 young men and women enrolled in the colleges and universities of the United States are self-supporting. In many instances earnings gained by clerking, waiting upon table, or tending furnaces supplement remittances received from home. Not infrequently such individuals are outstanding students, despite the fact that their opportunities for study are more or less restricted. As a rule the student who has stuck through four years of working and studying goes out into the world far better equipped to meet life's problems than the student who has been supported by unlimited funds from home. Sometimes, on the other hand, the self-supporting student breaks under the strain.

The Oberlin College Health Service has been studying the self-supporting student. It finds that he suffers from a 36 per cent higher in cidence of illness than his financially care-free colleague. Self-supporting students spend 1,296 days per 1,000 students in the hospital during the school year, while financially carefree students spend in the hospital but 947 days per 1,000 pupils. Self-supporting girls suffer more illness than any other group, spending an average of 2 days each in the hospital, or more than 300 per cent of the time spent in the hospital by self-supporting

It is only natural that a student, with time for rest and recreation limited, should feel the strain of work and fatigue, and that such strain should have a bearing upon his general physical condition. The dangers that the selfsupporting student faces in respect to illness and disease, however, are as nothing in comparison with the moral dangers faced by the individual who has too much easy money while in college."

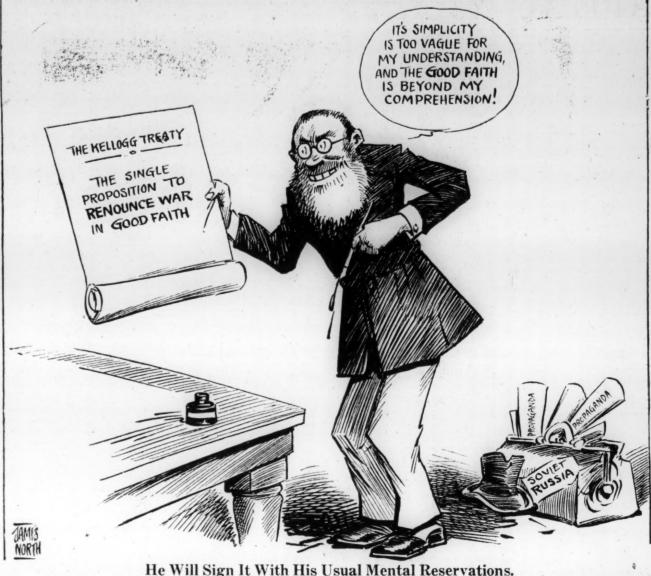

COMMERCIAL CRIME.

A new giant, says Dr. Stephen I. Miller, executive manager of the National Association of Credit Men, bas arisen in American business. attracting more attention this year than ever It flourishes "because of easy credit, cheap money and sharp competition among manufacturers. The ready extension of credit results from keen competition which arose from the speeding up of production, which in turn had its impetus in general prosperity." Its volume has reached close to $1,000,000,000 a year, and its name is commercial crime. The industry of fraudulent bankruptcy, he says, is on the decline, although last year this single phase of commercial crime cost legitimate business $500,000.000.

It is only of recent years that the public, made familiar with the subject by such agencies as the Association of Credit Men and the Better Business Bureaus, has come to realize that commercial crime plays an important part in bleeding the veins of legitimate business Formerly cases were looked upon as being selfcontained. Today it is realized that commercial fraud affects whole communities and whole industries. A dishonest individual perpetrates a stage robbery of his stock in trade. collecting insurance, and the premium rates on theft insurance applicable to the community are affected. A storekeeper goes into bank ruptcy, successfully concealing important assets, and his creditors are short of funds that otherwise would have found their way into the tills of other merchants.

The conditions that Dr. Miller designates as responsible for the growth of the business of commercial crime are conditions that should not be changed if prosperity is to continue at its present peak. The remedy lies not in a change of conditions but in the maintenance of unceasing vigilance against commercial crime by such organizations as the Association of Credit Men and the Better Business Bureaus, working in close harmony with police authorities.

CLAIMING ALL,

Out of the abnormalities of this campaign shine two great and steady lights, throwing their effulgence upon the path of confused voters and reassuring them that the old landmarks still stand. These lights are Chairman Raskob, of the Democratic national committee, and Senator George Moses, Republican field marshal in the Eastern sector. They are the links that connect this campaign with the old familiar past Other managers and spokesmen are acting strangely, giving the campaign an atmosphere of unreality, like a campaign in a dream; but Johnny Raskob and George Moses stick to the good old rule of claiming everything and conceding nothing.

When Chairman Raskob claims most of the Northern States and all the South, the seasoned voter knows that the campaign is real and not imaginary; and when George Moses claims the cream of the solid South for Hoover and admits that only one or two insignificant States are "troublesome," it is a sign that the battalions and brigades are about to engage.

As the battle lines develop it stands to reason that the two champions will intensify and consolidate their claims. No doubt they are already astonished by their own moderation; but practice will make perfect. The tagends that are now contemptuously thrown to the enemy will be reclaimed later, when every inch of No Man's Land is fought over and when the taking of a 10-foot trench will be blazoned as the prelude to the collapse of empires.

Chairman Raskob returns from the West with the electrifying news that Vice Chairman Moses has failed to claim Arizona, Wisconsln, Montana, Maryland or Missouri. This failure is equivalent, of course, to a surrender of those States to Gov. Smith. While in the West, Mr. Raskob claimed 309 votes for Smith, but, en route East, he said, "he was assured that Gov. Smith would carry Illinois, Indiana and Ohio." This assurance caused him to recapitulate his claims, which now aggregate 400 or more.

Possibly the reason why Vice Chairman Moses forgot to claim Arizona and the others was because he was busy liquidating the solid South. He saw Alabama falling into the Hoover line, with Arkansas proudly following, and Georgia, Virginia and North Carolina bringing up the rear. "Give Kentucky to us," says George. "No? Then we will take it."

What a glorious election it will be, if only a part of the claims of Raskob and Moses come true! Hoover will be the darling of the South, and Gov. Smith will run strongest in dry States. Rock-ribbed Republican strongholds will succumb to the fascinations of the lad from the sidewalks, and Southern States that never saw a Republican will perform the greatest flop that ever was on sea or land. The battle must go on to the stern and bitter end. Into all calculations some errors will fall, and perhaps the official count may call for slight readjustments in the claims now made by Moses and Raskob. But it will never be said that they were slackers. They claim the best they could, and when in doubt they claim. If the voters do not verify the figures it is not the fault of the figures or the claimers.

SHIP TO SHORE FLIGHTS.

Long before the French Line steamer Ile de France arrived in New York, mail that it carried from France had been distributed throughout New England and New York State. At 5:45 o'clock Monday morning a plane was catapulted from the deck of the steamer while it was 300 miles off the coast of Halifax and 900 miles from New York. Swiftly the plane winged its way to Halifax, where it was refueled. At 3 o'clock in the afternoon it had arrived in Boston, where the mail was dsitributed and rerouted. At 10 o'clock part of the mail was in New York and part was in Albany awaiting a Western-bound mail plane. It is estimated that at least 24 hours was saved in the transportation of mail by this flight from ship to shore.

There no longer can be any doubt that the airplane is destined to play an increasingly important role in expediting mail to and from ships. The flight of the plane from the Ile de France demonstrated that there is a considerable time saving in such flights.

Two difficulties only stand in the way of general adoption of an auxiliary plane service for transatlantic liners. Such service is largely dependent upon perfect or near perfect flying weather, and hence can not be conducted with guaranteed regularity, presents

THE COMMUNITY CHEST.

Organization of a community chest for Washington has begun. Last spring there was formed an organization committee composed of about 100 representative citizens, which recently mailed to the citizens of Washington a statement regarding the functions of a community chest. More than 300 representative American cities, including Philadelphia, Cleveland, Detroit, Cincinnati, Buffalo, St. Louis and Milwaukee, utilize with great success this modern and efficient method of raising funds for charity.

The Washington community chest will be a corporation organized of individual members, the contributors and institutional members, the participating charities and philanthropies Next January it will conduct a joint appeal for funds to meet the current expense needs of its member institutions as shown by carefully prepared budgets thoroughly analyzed by a budget committee of responsible citizens. It will engage in the year-round work of collecting and distributing funds that have been subscribed. It will devote its attention toward trying to improve the methods of its member organizations. It will carry on an educational publicity program and will study the community needs of Washington in order to meet them as adequately as possible.

The community chest promises to improve the situation in regard to charitable fund raising in these respects: It will relieve the public of repeated solicitation; it will supply the individual with information by which he can more intelligently plan his giving; by eliminating duplicated effort it will make the individual contribution go further; it will lessen the cost of solicitation, so that a greater portion of the fund contributed to charity will go into actual human service; it will increase the number of contributors. The community chest in other cities has made a remarkable record in each of these respects. It is said on good authority that the cost of solicitation under the present system of separate campaigns, appeal letters, balls, bazaars and paid solicitors stands in the neighborhood of 15 per cent. The community chest plan promises to cut this figure in half. In Cleveland the number of contributors to charity has been increased under the community chest from 10,000 to 460,000; in Detroit from 8,000 to 270,000; in Cincinnati from 8,000 to 81,000; in St.' Louis from 8,000 to 150,000.

With the experience of other cities upon which to draw, with able leadership assured and with a city whose citizens are responsive to the calls of humanity the Washington community chest will be a success.

SPEEDBOATS:

Gar Wood, in establishing an official world record of better than 92 miles an hour with his speedboat, Miss America VII, has given foreign boat racing enthusiasts a mark to shoot at. Repeated efforts have been made, particularly by the English, to lift the speedboat crown. The boats they have sent against Gar Wood's creations have performed creditably in every instance. Not once, however, has speed approaching the 92-mile mark been reached. Gar Wood makes the claim that Miss America VII has even greater speed concealed in her sleek hull and powerful engines. "I'll do better," he says, "than 100 miles an hour with the boat next spring in Florida."

Speedboats are not important agencies of transportation, for if speed is an important consideration it can be obtained better and with greater comfort in air or sea planes. Indirectly, however, by contributing to the knowledge of engine and hull design and performance, they serve a useful purpose. Miss America VII will never be duplicated commercially, but the radical innovations that made possible such tremendous speed may be adapted to commercial craft, from dories to ocean liners. The construction of Miss America VII is of self an interesting story. Two days after another Gar Wood boat, Miss America VI. sank during a trial run several weeks ago, a new hull was laid out on paper. After materials were fabricated the hull was laid down and in less than a week Miss America VII was ready for the water.

CROSS-COUNTRY AIR RACES

The transcontinental air races seem to be attracting more attention this year than ever before despite the fact that the airplane is no longer a curiosity. The explanation may lie in the fact that the airplane is a spectacular and practical development of the seven league boots of the legends, in which dashing figures flit nonchalantly across vast spaces. It may lie merely in the fact that the average individual likes a race. The 37 planes that took off at Roosevelt Field yesterday morning, the first of the four groups racing to Mines Field. Los Angeles, were sped on their way by an At Harrisburg, McKeesport and Columbus, the three stops on yesterday's schedule, similar crowds were on hand. The planes entered in these races are representative of the best that American manufacturers have designed. From huge transports with three powerful engines, down to tiny Moths with motor displacement of less than 510 cubic inches, they testify to the fact that American airplane manufacturing is a thriving industry. As they speed their way across the country the American people will have an opportunity to see for themselves that the airplane is no longer a frail and impractical contraption of cloth and piano wire. The cross-country races can not fail to contribute to the air knowledge of both the public and the fliers.

THE TOMB OF CYRUS.

Of the memorials of the mighty which have been uncovered from time to time by the new zest of archeologists for revival to knowledge of the cities, palaces and tombs of the potentates of the East, none has eclipsed in intrinsic historical value as well as in archeological estimation the discovery of the city which was built by Cyrus the Great in Persia, and which centuries ago dropped out of knowledge. Its location and the discovery of the tomb of Cyrus are due not a little in the faithfulness of the man who was required by Alexander the Great to restore the ravished tomb of his

of an urgent nature are willing to pay the in 363 B. C. that Aristobulus did this work The fact that ship to shore flying is and left a description that has proved an accurate guide for archeologists. Thus has been uncovered from the debris of ages the tomb that will hereafter be preserved as one of the most remarkable relics of the past.

The Persian city which has been brought to light is Pasargadae, and the credit for its discovery belongs to a German scientist, Prof. Ernst Herzfeld. The tomb of Cyrus is described as a low quadrangular building of marble, surmounting a six-tier terrace, also of stone, rising from a base of 40 by 50 feet. The interior of the tomb is 10 feet long, 7 feet wide and 8 feet high. In old times pillars stood around the tomb, upon which was inscribed, both in Persian and Median, "I am Cyrus the King.'

Here rested the body of the son of Cambyses the conqueror of Croesus and Belshazzar, the liberator of the Jews who had wept by the rivers of Babylon.

GIFTS TO GOV. SMITH.

Anonymous admirers have been showering gifts upon Gov. Smith. "Beware of the Greeks bearing gifts" does not apply to these, for there is only sincerity in the proffers which come from all parts of the country. Some of them come from Greeks literally, too, notwithstanding claims set up in behalf of Mr. Hoover that the Greek votes are his. While the nature of the gifts shows the givers' hearts to be sound, some of them hardly inspire confidence in the head, but perhaps they are as well chosen as any similar outpouring of gifts to be found in a bride's shower; or a country parson's pound party, or the offerings that run the sluiceway of the mails to White House incumbents.

Golf hose of approved emerald hue, cigars of untested brands, handkerchiefs of the kind that are found in Christmas gift boxes, shirts ties, shoes and four-leaf clovers compete with horned toads, racing turtles-one with a rec ord of 170 yards in 70 minutes-chickens, eggs, geese and roosters. Carefully typed and conveyed reams of poetry attest the interest of the Pegasians in a harmonious campaign. Good-luck mementoes come in cargo lots.

To cap all else, an artist admirer, a carpen ter, laid down the tools of his craft and executed a sketch of Gov. Smith that was sent to the candidate with his assertion that he has been a drawer of pictures all his life. Gauged by the estimate of utility the heterogeneous asemblage of tokens from admirers might not count for much, but their values as an ex pression of interest in his campaign are doubt less fully appreciated by Gov. Smith.

WORKING THROUGH COLLEGE.

A very considerable number of the 1,000. 000 young men and women enrolled in the colleges and universities of the United States are self-supporting. In many instances earnings gained by clerking, waiting upon table, or tending furnaces supplement remittances received from home. Not infrequently such individuals are outstanding students, despite the fact that their opportunities for study are more or less restricted. As a rule the student who has stuck through four years of working and studying goes out into the world far better equipped to meet life's problems than the student who has been supported by unlimited funds from home. Sometimes, on the other hand, the self-supporting student breaks under the strain.

The Oberlin College Health Service has been studying the self-supporting student. It finds that he suffers from a 36 per cent higher incidence of illness than his financially care-free Self-supporting students spend 1,296 days per 1,000 students in the hospital during the school year, while financially carefree students spend in the hospital but 947 days per 1,000 pupils. Self-supporting girls suffer more illness than any other group, spending an average of 2 days each in the hospital, or more than 300 per cent of the time spent in the hospital by self-supporting

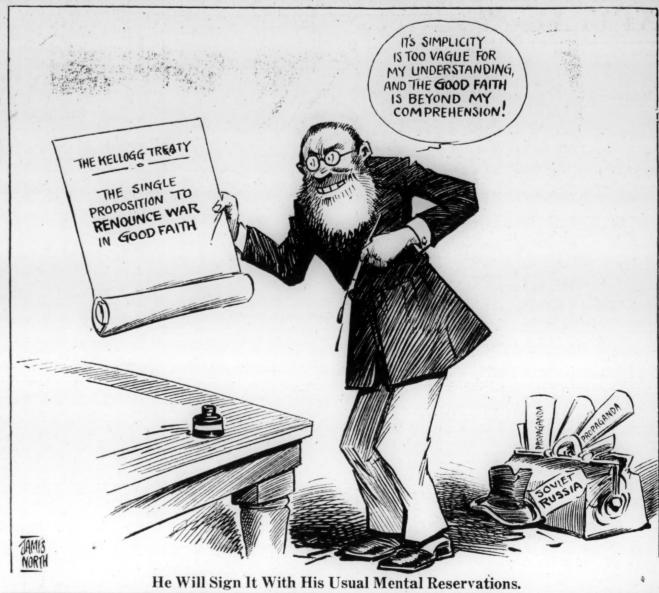

It is only natural that a student, with time for rest and recreation limited, should feel the strain of work and fatigue, and that such strain should have a bearing upon his general physical condition. The dangers that the selfsupporting student faces in respect to illness parison with the moral dangers faced by the individual who has too much easy money while in college.

COMMERCIAL CRIME. A new giant, says Dr. Stephen I. Miller, executive manager of the National Association of Credit Men, has arisen in American business. It flourishes "because of easy credit, cheap money and sharp competition among manufacturers. The ready extension of credit results from keen competition which arose from the speeding up of production, which in turn had its impetus in general prosperity." Its volume has reached close to $1,000,000,000 a year, and its name is commercial crime. The industry of fraudulent bankruptcy, he says, is on the decline, although last year this single phase of commercial crime cost legitimate business $500,000,000.

It is only of recent years that the public. made familiar with the subject by such agencies as the Association of Credit Men and the Better Business Bureaus, has come to realize that commercial crime plays an important part in bleeding the veins of legitimate business Formerly cases were looked upon as being selfcontained. Today it is realized that commercial fraud affects whole communities and whole industries. A dishonest individual perpetrates a stage robbery of his stock in trade. collecting insurance, and the premium rates on theft insurance applicable to the community are affected. A storekeeper goes into bankruptcy, successfully concealing important assets, and his creditors are short of funds that the tills of other merchants.

The conditions that Dr. Miller designates as responsible for the growth of the business of commercial crime are conditions that should not be changed if prosperity is to continue at its present peak. The remedy lies not in a change of conditions but in the maintenance of unceasing vigilance against commercial crime by such organizations as the Association of Credit Men and the Better Business Bureaus, working in close harmony with police authorities.

"The Lights of New York," incidentally, will be next week's attraction at the Earle Theater, to inaugurate its new sound-ficture policy, and last night was accorded a preview—or preaulition—to an invited audience of newspaper people, the unanimity of whose enthusiasm will doubtless impart itself to the lay public prior to Saturday's opening.

Some consternation was expressed among the movie reviewers assigned to the Earle Theater this week over their inability to decide definitely upon the identities of the dancers who score one of the hits of the performance. They are Easter and Hazelton, terpsicorean

Subsequent events have shown how fortunate he was in being relatively unimportant at that time. He was the first director to have a feature-length all-talking picture on the screen, and the theater in which it was shown is the only one in the Hollywood area which had to line the customers up on the sidewalk in the middle of the hottest days. Foy insists that "Lights of New York" is a pretty crude affair, compared with the all-talking pictures he expects to make later, but until he makes them this pioneering all-talking will look like the last word in motion pictures to many a film fan.

An American Indian ingenue is something the movie-makers have wanted for a long time, but apparently the right girl did not come along until Dorothy Janis, a Texan of Cherokee descent, visited California from Fort Worth as a guest of friends. One of the friends worked in a studio warricope department, where contume wardrobe department, where costume designers cudgel their brains for new ways of making movie heroines look ways of making movie heroines look slender on the screen. So when Dorothy called to see her friend her 94 pounds of loveliness was noticed at once. Her height, 4 feet 10, is also ideal for the screen. Her first assignment under her contract with Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer is a part opposite Tim McCoy.

I don't suppose Dorothy Janis is her name any more than Elsie Janis is Miss Bierbower's.

The banging of the turnstiles is one of the noises which identify and characterize New York. The coin releases the stile and a slight push starts it on its way, to land with an explosive sound at the end of its quarter-revolution.

ciety for the suppression of unnecessary noises, wrote to the editor of his favo-rite newspaper to suggest formation of a subway chapter of the society, to be called the Guild of Quiet Turnstile Turners. The only qualification was to be a pledge by each member that he ould catch the turnstile with his hand and let it finish its quarter-turn softly instead of landing with a crash.

But his proposal brought no diminu-tion of the din. A cynical commentator pointed out that the hypothetical so-ciety was foredomed to failure be-cause most New Yorkers associate noise proportion of al. the millions who ride to work.

One of the city's street car companies reckons that it is carrying but 19 passengers this year for every 20 it carried in 1927. The principal bus company reports to the city transit ommission that it transported 432,000 fewer persons in the first three months of this year than in the corresponding period of twelve-month before. The elevated lines lose business steadily.

Speed is the factor. Bus and trolley lines blame lose of patronage to the growing street congestion which slows them up. Their pace is measured by that of street traffic, and on many avenues they must go as slowly as the slowest of the vehicles with which they share the thoroughfare.

Suburban population gains, and commutation trains find business growing in proportion. But most of the millions ride to work on the subway and depend upon it to get them back to Brooklyn or Washington Heights or the Bronx when day is done.

Wives of Tomorrow By FRANCES MeDONALD=

EAR MISS McDONALD: 1 read with great interest your answers to other folks so I am now going to ask some advice myself. 1 have a girl friend who will be 18 years old on January 1, 1929. Her parents are very religious, almost crazy over religion, in fact. Now this girl likes nice boys and all kinds of sports but is not allowed to mention a boy's name or go anywhere but to church. When there is a concert anywhere outside of church she dare not think of going, and was not EAR MISS McDONALD: 1 read dare not think of going, and was not even allowed to go to the high school commencement. She says, however, that ahe will show them what she will do as soon as she is 18.

Don't you think her parents are making a great mistake? Four nights a week

Don't you think ner parents are making a grave mistake? Four nights a week to church, one night music lesson and the rest home, is too much? She never even goes to a movie. She certainly is wild about the way her parents treat her and I am afraid she will go to the dogs when she is of age. No one can tell her parents anything, so I hope you will give a good answer so I can show her parents where they are doing more herm than good. Too much religion is as bad as not enough it seems to me. Hoping to see my answer in the column. Very respectfully.

Very respectfully.
A CHRISTIAN MOTHER. Religion has been used to cloak all scrts of fanaticism for ages past and probably will be so used for ages more to come. No one can stop this unhappy abuse, until such time as ignorance is no more, and only normal minds are produced.

The individual who forces an 18-yearold girl to church four nights a week and deprives her of every normal and natural association in religion's name is a fanatic and nothing else Such a girl, born of fanatics and harassed by fanatics, will eventually react in true fanatic fashion.

fanatics, will eventually reacy in true fanatic fashion.

Most of the girls who "run away" from home only to fall into the hands of the police are girls whose one idea was escape. Utterly unprepared to face the world or to provide for themselves in any way, they rush blindly from oppression only to meet a worse fate. But at the moment, all they could think of was the possibility of freedom from their persecutors. And they can be added to the terrifying number of martyrs to fanatical obsession.

Why religionists make "religion" so hideous a thing no normal mind may guess. As a bludgeon they use it upon their offspring. As a blight they carry it through their days. Long-faced and bitter-tongued they frown upon innocent children, and rail against struggling humanity. Never do they suspect that this is not religion but jaundice. Religion is reverence, tolerance, tenderness, helpfulness and above all, therefulness.

Religion is reverence, tolerance, tenderness, helpfulness and above all, cheerfulness. If it is not these things and instead is spitefulness, intolerance, bigotry, harshness, and gloom, it is not religion but religion's deadly foe. Much of the lawlessness and crime of our day is due to lack of respect for religion, and this lack of respect in turn is due to the fanaticism that parades in religion's name. The meek Galillean himself would be the first to turn from the spectacle, the last to sponsor persecution and intolerance. But to the fanatic, the thought of that benign friend of all mankind seldom tomes.

So your girl friend at 18 probably will make good her threat and show how youth reacts against intolerance. And she will be neither the last nor the

It is not so many years since the turnstile succeeded the ticket choppers. Now, if the subway companies win pleas for a 7-cent fare, all the stiles must be remodeled to respond to a token of a new size. 't is estimated that the change will cost hundreds of thousands of dollars, but it seems certain that the turnstiles will not be replaced by the humans they supplanted.

With a fourchette, Dummy's natural play would be to cover, thus forcing out the adverse Ace and making Dummy's Jack the High Diamond; but to do so would place the lead in the East hand and as East could see the Jack-Nine of Diamonds in Dummy, he probably would not continue the Diamonds, but would lead the Clubs up to Dummy's weakness. If West have the Ace of Clubs, this lead would save game for the adversaries. PICKLED PEACHES, A DELICACY. (To serve with hot or cold meats.)

1/2 peck peeled peaches.
7 cups dark brown sugar.
5 cups vlnegar.
1/4 cup whole cloves.
1/2 cup bark cinnamon, lead pieces.

Select firm, large peaches and cover with bolling water long enough to been losely field.

Both the sugar and vinegar for five minutes. Add the spices, which have been loosely tied in a white muslin bag, and boil for five minutes longer. Add a few peaches at a time and boil gently until well glazed and very tender. Remove and place in sterilized jars. When all the peaches have been cooked, pour the boiling syrup over the peaches packed in the jars. Fill "to overflowing" and seal. Store in a cool, dark, dry place.

What is the effect on the child when it is taken for granted that his fallings being inherited, are beyond the reach of help? Naturally he will look upon himself as hopeless and will make no effort to improve. He will even be rather proud to resemble one of the respected older generation. He will take pains to develop his weakness to show it off, and so make himself the center of discussion.

If we look with unprejudiced eyes we If we look with unprejudiced eyes we will find that ample reasons for most misbehavior are in full view. We will observe that Frances is "high strung" when she has missed her nap or when visiting aunts and uncles have been giving her too much attention. George's tempers generally burst forth at the end of a rainy day in the house or when baby sister has been usurping all mother's love and interest.

Crowding of Teeth Cured In Children

rregularities Prevented by Pulling of Six-Year Molars or the Wisdom Grinders-X-Ray Keeps Track of Jaw Growth.

To the limit of space, questions pertinent to hygiene and prevention of disease will be answered in this column. Personal replies will be made to inquiries, under proper limitations, when return stamped envelope is inclosed. Dr. Evans will not make diagnosis or prescribe for individual disease.

REGULATION OF TEETH.

RS. H. F. AND A. A. LIBBY have a method of preventing irregu-larities of the teeth and curing such irregularities, within limits, which they have tried out for about 40 years.
Until the child is 12 years of age they do not make any great effort to regulate the teeth. At that date they examine the jaws with X-rays to determine how the wisdom teeth are comtermine how the wisdom teeth are coming along. If these teeth are forming properly, and the Jaws show evidence of being overcrowded, they pull the six-year molars, all four of them, regardless of what condition they are in. If the teeth are not much crowded, nor becoming very irregular, they do nothing else. If there is considerable irregularity, they put on bands and begin pulling the teeth into line.

The theory upon which this plan is based is that the human jaws, as a rule, are not large enough to hold 32 teeth. The wisdom teeth will be the best of the molars, if they are given plenty of room to develop in. As matters now are, they have poor roots and they decrearly because they are crowded and under pressure. Since they are cut about fourteen years later than the six-year molars, they should outlast them. They are located right at the angle of the jaw and therefore in the finest position for any work of the teeth which requires force.

Prior to 12 years of age the jaws are changing in size and shape at a fairly rapid rate. No one can form much of an opinion as to how far these changes will go. Nor is the wisdom tooth sufficiently far enough advanced it its development below the gums for any one to depend on it.

"Frances is awfully high strung. I should be kept clean, but not much should be done beside. The six-year molars should be watched closely. If the so easy to blame inheritance for faults and idiosyncrasies. If temper

If annoying perspiration is due to steady nerve strain, a constantly keyed-up condition of the whole body, then the treatment is purely psychological. The thing to do is to "key down." It is not always easy. Habits of living and thinking are to be altered. Special to The Washington Post.

New York, Sept. 5.—Bulls and bears indulged in a finish fight on the New York Stock Exchange today in a turmol of trading with which the ticker service was unable to cope, at times running more than half an hour behind and in which the day's turnover exceeded 4,500,000 shares. The decision went to the bulls by a large margin. By any system the market closed at a new high for all time. Irregularity ruled during the first two hours or more, as the opposing forces battled for supremacy, the struggle centering around General Motors, Chrysler, Radio, International Nickel, National Tower and Light, Fox Film A, American Power and Light, Fox Film A, American Power and Light and the Warner Picture stocks. But the greater power was with the bull side and around midday a rising definitely set in and held to the finish, net gains outnumbering losses by a large majority.

Advances of 2 to 9 points were spread thickly through the list. More than 40 stocks touched new peaks during the session. Radio opened at 225, advanced to a record high for all time at 226½, fluctuated wildly and closed at 224 for a net gein of 9 points in a turnover of 85,500 shares. General Motors opened at 202½, rushed up to 207, swung back to 200¼ and finally finished strong at 208½, 103 high points net. The turnover here totaled 261,100 shares.

Chrysler was pushed into new high price territory at 104¼, after opening at 103%; then receded to 100%, closing at 103%; up 2¼ net, in transactions totaling 161,500 shares.

After fluctuating over a wide range and touching new top prices for all time the Warner Richues shares care at 103%, up 2¼ net, in transactions totaling 161,500 shares.

After fluctuating over a wide range and touching new top prices for all time, the Warner Picture shares gave ground rapidly under profit taking, the common closing at 118, 3½ points under the best, for a net gain of 6½ points, and the A stock dropping from 127 to close at 117½, showing a fractional loss on the day.

Fox Film A opened at 99½, was twirled up to 106, a new high, fluctuated broadly, and closed at 101¾ for a net gain of 1%.

American and Foreign Power attained a new high price level for the year at 49 and closed at 48, up 4% points net. National Power and Light, in a turnover of 108,200 shares, touched a new top at 38 and closed just under that, up 1% net. Loew, Inc., were carried up for substantial gains with the other exhibition stocks.

FOREIGN LIST IS FIRMER

New York, Sept. 5 (A.P.).—Price movements were irregular in a fairly active bond market today. Rails supplied a firm undertone and some industrials showed gains, but in general the market reflected the erratic movements of the stock market. Most issues overcame their periods of weakness, however, and closed at levels slightly higher.

New public offerings today were the largest in some time, apparently representing an attempt to sound out the market, the total being around 455,000,000.

Amusement issues, which reflected

Amusement issues, which reflected the strength of amusement stocks, were prominent among industrials to show gains. Loew's 6s with warrants were prominent among industrials to show gains. Loew's 6s with warrants moved up more than a point to a new year's high at 114½. Pathe Exchange 7s gained fractionally.

Coppers recovered from their early weakness, but made no wide gains. Liquid Carbonic 6s were in demand at levels more than 3 points up. United States Rubber 5s, Shell Union Oil 5s. Allis Chalmer 5s and others registered fractional advances. Barnsdall 6s and Dodge Brothers 6s closed unchanged. Utilities improved, Brooklyn Union Gas 5s showing a gain of more than a point and Public Service of New Jersey 4½s rising about half as much.

While Atchison convertible 4s slumped 2½ points to a new year's low at 39¼, and Minneapolis & St. Louis 5s, Denver & Rio Grande Western 5s and Erie 5s sagged fractionally, most other rails closed substantially higher. Burlington 3½s, I. R. T. 5s, Mobile & Ohio 4½s, Katy 4s B, and Third Avenue adjustment 5s advanced 1 to 3 points each.

and to take second mortgages on farms already mortgaged to the Federal joint stock land banks.

The Government alleges that the money received from the sales was used instead by the seven men under indictment for other pursues. It is charged that they put the funds into land banks in the Middle West in which they were interested in order to bolster up the financial conditions of those institutions. The Government prosecutor charged that the companies did not lend the money to any local banks for the benefit of the farmer and in only a few instances took any second mortgages on farms already mortgaged to the land banks.

Chicago, Sept. 5 (A.P.).—Guy Huston and John E. Huston, brothers named in a Federal grand jury indictment in Boston today, are chicago bankers and brokers whose stock deals and financing previously have drawn them Into legal difficulties. John Huston is in Chicago now but his brother is in the East.

According to John Huston, John L. Boyles and Harold A. Smith, two other Chicago men indicted, were connected with the Hustons in 1925. Walter E. Cravens of Kansas City, and Oran F. Schee and Vernon U. Sigler of Des Mones are joint stock land bankers.

Austin Strong's drama, "Seventh Heaven," will be the attraction at the National Theater for the week beginning Monday, September 10, with matness Wednesday and Saturday. This is the last play of the summer season, chosen by popular balloting among patrons of the National Theater Players. Miss Leona Powers, leading lady, will play the role she enacted so well last year—Diane. Howard Miller, leading man, has the character of Chico. Helen Wallace is cast as Nana, sister of Dane. Charles Hampden will play Boul, the taxi driver. Romaine Callender will play the Colonel. Mrs. Hibbard, Arthur Rhodes, Robert Brister and other members have excellent parts.

PALACE.

Nils Asther leading the support. On the stage, Wesley Eddy and his Palace Syncopators will be seen and heard if John Murray Anderson's "Parisian Nights" revue in which the Williams Sisters, Markell Brothers, Gretchen Eastman, Henry Mack and the Foster Girls are also prominent participants. The entertainment will be completed by customary house features, includ-ing Movletone and M-G-M news.

FOX.

Following the record-breaking engagement of Janet Gaynor and Charles Farrell in "Street Angel" at the Fox Theater, the attraction at that house will be "The River Pirate," in which the stellar role is portrayed by Victor McLaglen, who rose to fame overnight as Capt, Flagg in "What Price Glory," and since has scored many notable successes. Lois Moran plays opposite the star, and others in the cast include Nick Stuart, Earle Foxe, Donald Crisp, Robert Perry and many more the auxiliary attractions will embrace a pretentious stage presentation, Movietone News and Fox Orchestra.

B. F. KEITH'S.

"The King of Kings," Cecil B. De Mille's beautiful, reverent and awe-inspiring screen story of the Christ, will open the second and final week of its epochal engagement at the B. F. Keith Theater on Saturday morning. The Flerentine Choir, brought especially to the Capital for this distinguished engagement, also will be retained for a second week. This will be the only appearance of this famous musical organization in Washington. Prices for this engagement only will continue at 50 cents for matinees and 50 and 75 cents at night performances. First showing, 11:45 a. m.; last, 8.43 p. m.

when the Yankees grabbed a run.

Robertson led off with a single. Durocher bunted him along to second and Bengough singled to left field to bring him home.

This one run loomed as large as the statue of Liberty until the seventh, when the Nationals moved it into the background with a three-run rally. Cronin led off and hit. Jones walked. West rolled a slow bunt to Robertson, who missed it, thereby filling the bases. Rice and Goslin singled to right and three runners scored. There was nobody out. Huggins had to make the first put-out himself, and Pipgras was it.

The Yankees had a chance in their part of the seventh when Durocher hit and got a base, and azzeri went to bat for Bengough and was lucky enough to have Harris drop a fly ball just inside the right-field foul line. But neither Paschal nor Combs improved the sit-CONTINUED ON PAGE 15 COLUMN 2 season.

Five pitchers, Wa':h, Adkins, Blankenship. Cox and Dugan, worked for the White Sox, but every member of the Tigers babged at least one hit except Gehringer. Harry Heilmann got three hits in four attempts, while Stone got two triples.

The Tigers put the game on ice in the ninth inning when the first six men got on base. Stoner and Carroll.

To Detroit, limited 'hicago to eight hits, only one of which was for extra bases.

Von Elm Winner by 21 Strokes Over Field in Gold Mashie Play

NewPort. R. I. Sept. 5 (A.P.).—
George Von Elm clipped fifteen strokes off the record today when he won the 72-hole golf mashle tournament with a total of 272 leading Maurice McCarthy, Georgetown University student, of Baltimore, and D. Clark Corkran, who were tied for second, by 21 strokes.

The lowest score ever made in any previous tournament was the 287 which Jess Sweetser shot last year when he won the event.

Babe Ruth is in a slump which has reduced him, for nobody knows how long, to the stature of a good ball player, and, of course, when Mr. Ruth is merely a good ball player he is much below par.

Alarmed, almost to panic, Mr. Ruth's manager, Mr. Christy Walsh, disaxowed these sentiments on Ruth's behalf, and said the Babe's home runs had been and would continue nonwritism.

May Cancel Tech Game
Baltimore, Md., Sept. 5.—The football eleven of the Baltimore City College likely will be forced to cancel its first game against McKinley Tech. of Washington, scheduled here for September 22.
City College had expected to begin its practice today, but the collegians will have to wait until September 17, for the school board has prohibited all scholastic activities until the opening of the school sessions. To play the scheduled contest would necessitate the conditioning of a team in only five days. Owing to the large number of infantile paralysis cases in Baltimore, opening of the public schools was postponed from September 5 to September 17.

Paul Doerr, former Eastern High star athlete, and Arthur Boyd, for-mer Tech captain, both graduates of Maryland University, have been assigned to Hine and Gordon Jun-for high schools, respectively. M. N. Edwards also has been added to the Hine staff.

Friends of Kelley last night de-fended his record at Central for the past four years, pointing to one title and one tie for the title in that period. "Mea whose own football experience was contined in that period. "Mea whose own football experience was confined to high school play attempted to counsel and supersede Kelle; in his direction of the team to the hindrance of larmony and a smooth-working system of play," it was declared. Reference was made 'the constant attendance of alumni stars at Central's practice sessions and on the bench during the team's games.

During his past three years at Central Kelley's teams have won more games than any other school in the annual scholastic series with eight victories, three losses and one tie. Tech teams have won seven games, lost two and tied two in the past three years. During Kelley's reign at Central his and tied two in the past three years, During Keliey's reign at Central his teams have been their arch-rivals—Tech, two games, tied one and lost one. Tech has not scored on Central during the past three years.

The new coaching line-up of the schools now threatens to decrease, in a measure, the importance of the annual Tech-Central game in favor of the Central-Eastern contest.

Little Gyp Outruns 12 2-Year-Olds at Arlington.

BELMONT RACE TRACK. N. Y., Sept. 5 (A.P.).—Harry Payne Whitney's Victorian, held at 1 to 7 in the betting, made a show of his 5 field in winning the Manhattan Handleap, a mile gallop here today. He ran the eight furlongs in 1:37 3-5 and worked out a mile and a half.

He ran the mile and a quarter in 2:05 3-5 and a mile and three furlongs in 2:19 3-5, and galloped out the mile and a half in 2:35 3-5. It was his final preparation for the Lawrence Realization He was never out of a pull. He jumped away to the lead and was under restraint to win by two lengths. He had terrific speed, running the six furlongs in 1:10 4-5, and had his field driving hard to keep up. Princess Tina was second by a head.

Arlington Race Track, Ill., Sept. 5 (A.P.).—Little Gyp, ridden by L. Jones, won the fifth at 5½ furiongs, the feature on today's card, by half a length over a field of twelve 2-year-olds. Nicaragua, the early leader, saved second money by a nose over Linda, grouped in the field. Little Gyp took the lead in the stretch and won driving. Her time was 1:06 4-5 and she paid $7.46 straight in the mutuels.

PRO GOLFERS TO QUALIFY TODAY

2 Low Scores Eligible to Play in P. G. A. Title Event.

By HENRY LITCHFIELD WEST.

By HENRY LITCHFIELD WEST.

Note of the poured down on the indian Spring course yesterday, a large, majority of the golf professionals who will compete today in the qualifying round for the Professional Golfers Association annual champion, played one or two rounds. The course was long and heavy and any shot that failed to stay in the fairway was penalized by a heavy rough.

If the rain continues today, as is predicted, the prophecies of two rounds of 72 or 73 as necessary to qualify are not apt to be fulfilled.

Tommy Armour, former national open champion and professional of the Congressional Country Club, had to be satisfied yesterday with 77, while Fred McLeod, of the Columbia Club, was happy with 78.

The entries for the qualifying today, with only two to qualify, include the best known professional golfers in the Middle Atlantic section. There will be no preliminary pairings, but partbe no preliminary pairings, but partwell be drawn before starting at this morning, with the unetteched.

It is also probable that this list will be increased by the addition of the names of R. Cliff McKimmie, unatached; William Dunt, Sherwood Forest, and Duncan Cuthbert, Hillendale, Baltimore, Md.

FOR PROMPT ROAD SERVICE

O'I MONSIEUR. How do you do? Well, boys, this is about the juiclest morsel ever dragged out of the old brine barrel. Goes in the second spasm out at Arlington Park and the result will never be in doubt. Just toss out everything that has gone before and have the old two meggs riding right slam bang on the old beezer.

HOPELESS has been running like a dray horse, but may awaken and grab the opener. Anything, you know, can happen out at Arlington, so toss the old dope sheet out into the alley.

BRUNSWICK may not go, but is best of the poor ones engaged in the third.

TYROL has just a sprinkling of class and will will make his field look cheap in the fourth.

Although opposed by some 2-year-olds, it would seem as though ILLEGITIMATE has enough speed to get away from his field in the fifth, which is the feature offering. The Three D's entry, however.

The Sioux Basketbail Team will again enter the unlimited ranks the coming season and endeavor to gain the city championship. The Indians have acquired the use of the Eastern High School Gymnasium for their home floor and will start practice about the first of October.

and any new material who would make the team. For games, call Atlantic

Wynkoop was at center on the third equad, with Brogan and Baldwin at tackle, Montanus and Flood at guard. McGrath and McCarthy at end, with Gardener McGue. Hartigan, Scott and Pitzgerald, the latter a former Guntaga star, working in the back field. The arrival of Ralph Duplin, John Eckert, John Tomaini, Kenneth McNell and Russell White and Eugene Driscoll who put in their appearance during the lay, may change the line-ups in a few nataness. The arrival of John Hudack, who may put an end to Little's wordies for want of a forward passer, will complete the squad.

Gardener, Schalzi, Hanigan, Bozek and Leary and Liston, the latter a line-man, have been tried at calling signals. Of this group, Coach Little expects to line at least one capable in quarter sack.

YANKEES HOLD LEAD BY SPLIT WITH NATS

continues From From From the union. The Yankees did not have another chance until the ninth, when Durocher his for two bases with two out. Not knowing that Collins was due to hit a home run, they sent Bill Dickey to bat for him, and Bill did not have any luck, so they made ready for the second game.

The Goose made a dizzy one-hand catch of Koenig's fly in the eighth. It should have been an easy ball to handle but Goslin was afraid West would cash into him; so he stopped and stuck out one hand and the ball fell into it.

Pat Collins had a perfect day with walk a sacrifice a single and a home

The fans gave Weaver the ha na when he appeared. He's so big he's funny until you get used to him. At the end of his pitching motion he appears to be almost on top of the plate. One of the fans expressed his fears when Durocher was at bat by saying: "Look out Leo he'll step on you."

Helmach was lucky to the plate of the plate of the fans expressed his fears when Durocher was at bat by saying: "Look out Leo he'll step on you."

LEAGUE SEEKS TEAMS.

Heimach was lucky to escape from the first inning unscathed. Three men hit him in succession and he had the bases full with one out when Dugan grabbed Bluege's grounder for a double play.

Combs bounced a triple off the left field stands in the second, drove in one of the two runs made that inning and scored the other when Koenig Meusel hit for two bases after that, but he was caught going to third after Holy Cross Team of Class A. City Dugan had filed to Goslin. Candidates Today in Battle for Berths.

Becial to The Washington Post.

BLACKSBURG, Va., Sept. 5.—With the arrival of coaches, trainers and managers early this week and today's appearance of the vanguard of two score gridiron candidates aspected of early training, football made its first dramatic ride over the campus of Virginia Polytechnic Institute today.

The full quota of 60 candidates is due to take the field Thursday when the preliminary drills will get under way in carnest. Cobbler gridiron destinies will again be in the hands of Andy Gustafron, former Pits full back who is beginning his third season as V. P. 1. head coach. The former Panther ace is assisted by Lee Frank, captain and teammate of the 1939 Pits eleven, who will coach the linement for the second year.

Despite the loss of a dozen members of last year's squad, including Capt. Buck Miles and other outstanding stars, Coach Gustafson has ten seasoned lettermen to build upon.

Practice at Maryland U.

Sinty-eight condidates reported to Gosch Tom Kosdy for preliminary football practice when the Quantice Marinas took the University of Maryland field yeaterday at College Park. Only 40 of these, however, will remain with the squad when it repairs to the Philadelphia Navy Yard. October 1, to remain until the end of the sesson. Keady is being assisted in the initial training by coaches Joe Burger and "Zeks" Bailey, formerly of the University of Maryland, and James Wigmore and Richard Duncan, former Marine stars.

The squad has been augmented by the addition of Swearington, all-scholastic star from Maine; Builham, a monster guard, and Strope, the sensation of the Parris Island team last year. The Leathernecks will have but one team this year, there being no provisions made for either the Parris Island or the West Coast elevens.

The squad will require about 50 per cent replacements in the next week on account of the strict eligibility rules of the corps. This rule provides that no man can compete longer than two years on the eleven.

"Will you kindly 'kill' my advertisement for a 'girl.' The first issue got results. I intended to run the advertisement six times but find that one time did the work. I have always found that it pays to put 'Want ads' in The Post. In ten years I have never failed to get what I wanted when I advertised in your paper—that may seem strange but true in my case. I thank you very much."

Post readers turn instinctively to Post classified whenever a want arises. You can make this habit pay you well if you advertise. Phone Main

"Will you kindly 'kill' my advertisement for a 'girl.' The first issue got results. I intended to run the advertisement six times but find that one time did the work. I have always found that it pays to put 'Want ads' in The Post. In ten years I have never failed to get what I wanted when I advertised in your paper—that may seem strange but true in my case. I thank you very much."

Post readers turn instinctively to Post classified whenever a want arises. You can make this habit pay you well if you advertise. Phone Main Education following their meeting yesterday in the Franklin School.

Just what part of the school program will suffer as a result of the Commissioners' edict has not yet been decided. Charles F. Carust, president of the Board of Education, said last night publication of what transpired at the meeting would be inappropriate at this time and would not do the school system any good.

It has been the practice of school officials in the past, when confronted with the same situation as now presents itself, to use the paring knife on those items which can best wait. Whatever is done, however, is sure to provoke complaints among the various school organizations, which have continually urged new schools and improvements to old ones in their sections of the city.

Youth to Face Charge Of Illegal Operation

Accused of aiding in the performance of an illegal operation on Miss Bernice Carter, 17 years old, of Spotsylvania, Va., who is in a serious condition in a Fredericksburg (Va.) hospital, Odell R. Seay, 17 years old, of 221 Fifteenth street northeast, yesterday was arraigned before Judge Robert E. Mattingly in Police Court. His hearing was continued until September 20 and he was committed to the District Jail in default of $500 bond.

Detectives Joseph Waldron and John Fowler, of the central office homicide squad, arrested the youth. Assistant District Attorney Joseph Bruce yesterday issued a warrant for the arrest of a physician, who is said to have performed the operation. The accused youth and Miss Carter were classmates in the Robert E. Lee High School near Fredericksburg. The youth has been living with an uncle in this city.

Charged with assault upon Mr. and Mrs. Frank Osborne, of 3200 Harriett place southeast, Harold McGuinn, 20 years old, of 1113 Pennsylvania avenue southeast, yesterday pleaded not guilty and demanded a jury trial in Police Court. He was fined $10 for a charge of disorderly conduct.

Court. He was fined $10 for a charge of disorderly conduct.

The accusation grew out of a reported attack upon Mr. and Mrs. Osborne as they were walking along Minnesota avenue southeast Tuesday night. Four men, the couple told police, accosted them, but they managed to escape and went to the home of Policeman J. E. Bennett nearby and told him the story. Upon investigation, Bennett found four young men hiding in shrubbery near the scene of the alleged attack, he said, and succeeded in arresting only one of them, who described himself as McGuinn.
